

Rosemary Sinclair's Biography

Rosemary Sinclair is Managing Director of ATUG, an independent, self – funded organisation which has been representing the interests of end-users of telecommunications to regulators, policy makers and industry in Australia since 1980.

Rosemary has held various executive positions at Telecom Australia including National General Manager – Communications Industry Accounts; Director, Strategic Development at the ABC and Director, Education, New Media and Export at Scholastic Australia.

She is experienced in public policy and high-level strategic development and in representing the interests of corporate users of information and communications technology.

Rosemary Sinclair was a member of the Federal Government's Broadband Advisory Group in 2002. Rosemary is currently a member of the Government's Teleworking Task Force.

She is a Member of the National ICT Industry Alliance, the Australian Communications Industry Forum (ACIF), Australian Telework Advisory Committee (ATAC) and the Broadband for Health Program Working Group.

Rosemary is a member of the International Telecommunications Working Group (INTUG) Executive Committee. She also holds the position of INTUG Asia-Pacific Region Vice Chair and represents the view of end users of telecommunications directly to policy makers and regulators from all the APEC economies at the APEC Telecommunications Working Group meetings held twice each year.

Her academic achievements include Bachelor's degrees in Arts, Law and Business and a Masters degree in Commerce.